The best portraits are achieved with live sittings in which the artist has a chance to become familiar with the personality and characteristics of the subject.

Portraiture typically involves two or more sittings with the client depending on the size of the portrait and the medium used.

Oil paintings are created on stretched linen using traditional methods and the finest artist quality materials. Watercolours, etchings, pastel portraits and drawings are created on acid free papers.

Multi-media images can be presented and reproduced in a variety of ways, please ask for options.

All materials used are archival quality.
